

ABOUT

American State Nationals

An American State National is either: (1) naturally born on the land and soil of an American State such as Wisconsin, or (2) after being naturalized as a United States Citizen, is a foreign-born man or woman who voluntarily accepts and publishes their adoption of a specific American State as their permanent home and domicile. A State National is not acting as a citizen of any government and owes no obligations to government beyond keeping the peace and reporting crimes.

As a completely unincorporated Person, a State National is sovereign and private and generally immune from prosecution until and unless they take some action that causes actual physical harm to someone else or someone else's property, whereupon they are subject to the Common Law of the County and State where they live or where the alleged crime is committed.

A State National can be arrested for cause by peacekeeping officials but is not generally subject to private courts or to arrest by private law enforcement officers.

By definition, a State National is a civilian and an Internationally Protected Person and is owed The Law of Peace.

A State National may be elected to Public Office, whereupon they become subject to their Affirmation of Office.

State Nationals are the "people" of each State and populate the National Soil Jurisdiction.

THE BOTTOM LINE

If you are not actually employed by a Federal Subcontractor and not a Dependent of the Federal Employee nor a voluntary recipient of unearned Federal welfare benefits nor a political asylum seeker nor a knowing and willing volunteer or paid Agent of the two Foreign "Federal" Subcontractors, you are in fact an American State National or State Citizen.

Your earnings are not "Federal Income" and you are not generally subject to Federal Codes and regulations unless you are engaged in the interstate manufacture, sale, or transport of alcohol, tobacco, or firearms.

Recording Secretary Services & Personalized Professional Paperwork

Status Select Professional Services was created after listening to many new American State Nationals share with us their experiences in correcting their status. The learning curve is huge when becoming a State National and at times confusing trying to get all the documents correctly filled out and submitted.

A United State Citizen can prepare all their own paperwork and submit it to the proper agencies for free, however, our inexpensive services will help move the process along in an efficient and streamlined way.

My own personal experience in preparing my documents was nerve-racking! It took me at least three weeks to look over and understand what I was about to do, another two days to fill out and proof read all the documents... as well as all the second-guessing and freakout moments I experienced.

After my documents were recorded, they needed to go to the correct governmental agencies and I made very costly financial mistakes sending my documents to the wrong office, only to have them returned to me. It's isn't cheap to send your important documents via Registered Mail with a returned receipt request as well.

Prior to completing my paperwork, I spent many hours trying to get into contact with the right coordinators and recording secretaries. Every time I had a question answered by a kind and extremely patient State National, I ended up with three more questions!

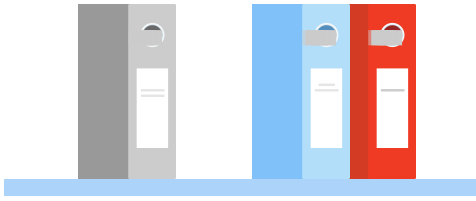

The Assembly members of New Mexico helped me correct my status, but not before I had a thousand and one questions answered.

It is a daunting task and undertaking to correct your political status and become an American State National, and yet, so simple!

My mission and goal:

- To assist you in correcting your status
- To provide easy to follow directions and connect you to your State Coordinator and Recording Secretary
- To help shoulder the burden State Coordinators and Recording Secretaries have by assisting newcomers first
- To provide a directory of Recording Secretaries for the States and Counties
- To officially welcome you home to your political birthright status as an American State National!
